A World of Colour!

Have you ever noticed the kaleidoscope of colour around you? Summer is a perfect time to look for the amazing variety of colours in nature's palette.

Your challenge

Go on a colour walk with your family. Can you find an example of each of the rainbow colours in nature? Take a picture of your 6 favourites. Afterwards, create a colourful piece of art using materials in nature.

Options

For very young children, still learning the names of colours, bring an example of each colour you look for together, and call it by name. Focus on one or two colours each time you go out. Paint stores may provide colour samples to work with.

For older children/youth, choose one colour and find as many different hues of that colour as possible. Come up with some new names for each of these hues (slimester green, pickle green etc.)
